Not Worried Over America Sending Warship

OVERTHROW OF CASTRO

It Is Claimed Will be Welcomed by United States Government

Germany Is Disappointed as Gov- ernment Expected to Make Large Loan.

The Hague, Dec. 22.—The reported dispatch of an American war vessel to the Caribbean is causing no alarm in the Dutch foreign office. They say they have assurances from Washington that there will be no interference with Holland's campaign against Venezuela. It is believed the United States welcomes the downfall of Castro.

With the overthrow of the Castro cabinet by acting President Gomez it will be only a short time until Castro is completely deposed. Holland is anxious to treat with the new cabinet and try to settle the differences. Germany is disappointed at Castro's overthrow. They hoped to make him a big loan and land a number of rich contracts and get big trade concessions. It is believed he is completely out of power now so negotiations will probably cease. Reports from Caracas say if Castro returns to Venezuela he would be assassinated on sight.

The drys made no demonstration last night.

REMAINS DRY TERRITORY.

Lancaster, Dec. 22.—The West Side a residence district with a population of 1200 or more, will remain dry territory on the decision of Judge Reeves. It became so by petition under the Jones law a few years ago. Recently a petition circulated by the liberal element was signed by 226 electors, but 47 of the number were induced to sign a request to have their names stricken off and this was filed 15 minutes ahead of the petition on which grounds the court held their names should be removed.

PRES. LEWIS

ISSUES STATEMENT TO LOCAL UNIONS SAYING ORIGIN IS APPROACHING.

Claims That Men in Mine Workers' Organization are Seeking Per- sonal Ends.

Indianapolis, Dec. 22.—President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, mailed a statement to local unions today, which says a crisis in the affairs of the organization is approaching. He begs for concerted action, dropping petty quarrels and complaints and a closer union.

President Lewis says reports sent out to newspapers regarding his stand on some subjects are false. He says men in the organization are seeking personal ends, sacrificing the welfare of the organization to gain them. He believes a well planned and deliberate attempt is being made by certain members of the organization to destroy the mine workers.

"If ever there was a time when every local union should be represented at the national convention that is next month. My advice to you is to send men willing to hear facts and pass judgment in accordance with the merits of whatever is presented for consideration."

Grigger beat Ed Bell, a hunting companion, over the head with his gun early Monday when he was disgusted with Bell's poor marksmanship. Bell will die.

The ranch originally comprised 35,000 acres in the most fertile and beautiful section of the San Gabriel valley, running up to the very base of the Sierra Madre mountains.

Terrible Tale of Cruelty of Tennessee Night Riders

Forced to Agree to Withdraw Divorce Suit Against Husband After Two Whippings.

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 22.—The state practically completed its case yesterday against the eight alleged night riders on trial for the murder of Captain Rankin, when it drew from Frank Fehring, a member of the band, a detailed statement, not only of the murder itself and the names of those who committed it, but of a score or more of other outrages. And then, just to add the finishing touches, it called to the stand Mrs. Emma Thurman Johnson, one of the two women known to have been whipped by the band, and had her tell her story. It was a dramatic close to a day of sensational developments.

Mrs. Johnson, a tall, slender young woman, dressed in black, testified she had married Jo Johnson, a man 30 years older than she was. She lived with him four years and a child was born. Last April she sued him for divorce, charging cruelty and asking maintenance. Early in September the riders visited her father's home and left word that she must withdraw the suit. She failed to do so, and on a second visit her father was whipped.

On both occasions she was at her sister's home. The riders seem to have realized this, for on September 30, about 11 o'clock at night, they went to her sister's house. Mrs. Johnson awoke from a sound sleep, beside her babe, to find her bedroom filled with masked and armed men. A man whom she recognized as Fred Phipps, one of the defendants, was standing so close she could touch him.

"We have come to tell you for the last time that you must dismiss that divorce suit," said Phipps, whom she had known for years and who lived scarcely a mile away.

"I will not withdraw it," she replied.

"You will before we get through with you," replied Phipps. "If you dismiss it now, we will see that he supports the child, but you must not touch his property."

Mrs. Johnson obstinately insisted that she would press the case. Then the bandits filed out into the yard to consult. In a few minutes they returned. Phipps stepped over to the young woman's bed, where she lay with her baby, and said: "Come with us." Two others of the band seized the young woman, dragged her roughly from the bed in her night clothes and out into the night. They hurried her about 250 yards away. They threw her on a log in the woods and one of them beat her across the shoulders with the strap. After the first beating she asked her if she would dismiss the suit. She said no. Then she was again whipped. Broken when her fighting spirit was broken and she sobbingly said she would give in to their demands.

Following the testimony of the confessed night rider, Fehring, friends of the men under indictment are showing a desperate attitude today.

It is said that during the trial a back woodsman entered court with a gun, stating that he would kill Fehring before he told any more. Cooler heads persuaded him to leave the room. The sheriff discovered this morning a plot to deliver the men now in custody to friends to be waiting near the jail with horses. When the sheriff brought the prisoners out on the way to the court house they were to make a break, mount horses and make for the Kentucky border. An extra guard was ordered over the men and they were hand-cuffed to sheriffs when taken to the court house today.

CALLAN ADVANCES TO FIRST BY A VERY NARROW MARGIN

Leaders in Advocate Contest are Close---End Comes Tomorrow at 8 p. m.--Who Can Pick the Winners?

The Advocate subscription contest will end at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. The feature of the past 24 hours is the advance of John Callan to first place, a position held for nearly two weeks by Teckla Ruff of Jefferson street. Callan jumped into first place last night and with the beginning of business today he held it by the narrow margin of two points. Andrew Goebel's friends did some voting also, bringing him within ten points of Miss Ruff. Then the Hebron lad, Ren Comisford, was not forgotten either. His vote is only three points behind Goebel's. George Winters is close to Comisford and William Giblin and Roy Kiefer are not far behind Winters. Others among the 14 leaders showed strength and the way things are going today makes it decidedly uncertain how the contestants will line up at the finish tomorrow night.

It may be that some who are now down in the list will bring in enough new subscribers before tomorrow night to change the whole picture. If the contest had ended last night this is the way the 14 leaders would have stood:

1—John Callan.
2—Teckla Ruff.
3—Andrew Goebel.
4—Ren Comisford.
5—George Winters.
6—Roy Kiefer.
7—William Giblin.
8—Frank Ryan.
9—Joan Papenek.
10—Wilbur Gault.
11—Florence Loewendick.
12—Wm. Schopen.
13—Harold Vogel.
14—Clay Mast.

Anyone may vote in the Advocate contest providing each vote is accompanied by one new Daily subscription for 5 weeks. Each 5 weeks subscription (50c) counts one point. A year's subscription counts 9 points, providing the paper is to be delivered by carrier in the city.

The leaders are today so close in the race that an expert couldn't pick the winners. The contest ends tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Then as soon as the votes can be counted the Advocate will award $100 in 14 cash prizes, ranging from $25 to $2.50, dividing the prizes in case of a tie, and will pay those contestants who fail to receive prizes a cash commission on for each new subscription secured.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Charles Holmes, charged with the murder of his wife, is held pending an investigation by the grand jury. GAS DEAL

In Which Former Newark Citizen Figures, Involving $250,000, Has Been Completed.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 22.—A. S. Wilson, president of the Columbia Gas and Electric company, formerly of Newark, O., arrived in Cincinnati last night from New York. He brought back word that the details of the sale of the bonds of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company to the English syndicate, since all but one of the bonds had been sold, was completed. One of the major features which took place in New York last week was the manner in which the payments are to be made. One-half of the money is to be paid in January, and the remainder in February. There are $5,000,000 of these bonds, $3,000,000 of which are now held by the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company, and $2,000,000 by the Columbia Gas and Electric company. The deal means that $5,000,000 of English money comes to Cincinnati.

GOV. HARRIS

WILL HONOR REQUISITION FROM ILLINOIS FOR PRISONER IN OHIO PEN.

Confessed to Killing His Sweetheart in Benton in 1906—Will be Tried for Murder.

Benton, Ill., Dec. 22.—Governor Harris will honor the requisition from Illinois for Roy Rice a convict in the penitentiary. Rice is serving time in the Ohio penitentiary. He has confessed to the murder of his sweetheart, Alma Willmore, in Illinois in 1906.

The community in Benton is greatly wrought up over the confession, and will demand that Rice be given a speedy trial and hung. At the time the girl was found dead Rice disappeared. Another man was tried for the crime and acquitted. Rice came to Ohio, finally landing in the pen. A brother of Rice committed a similar crime in Illinois and was hung in 1903. Governor Harris will pardon Rice of the Ohio crime and the Illinois authorities will take him in charge and try him for murder.

GRAFT

By the Wholesale Charged Against Officials

BANKERS ALSO ACCUSED

City of Pittsburg in Dragnet of Civic League

Number of Prominent Men Arrest- ed and More to Follow--- The Charges.

Pittsburg, Dec. 22.—Wholesale arrests were made here last night as a result of alleged crookedness in connection with the administration of the affairs of the city of Pittsburg.

City officials and bank officials are among the persons struggling in the dragnet of the Civic League of Allegheny county, an organization composed largely of the county's ablest lawyers.

The information against the accused was filed by Tensard De Wolfe, secretary of the league.

Among the first men arrested were W. W. Ramsey, president of the German National bank, and A. A. Vilsack, cashier of the institution. They were released on bail.

The public officials against whom charges were made are Wm. Brand, president of the Common Council; Jacob Soffel, Thirty-second ward; Hugh Ferguson, Fortieth ward; Captain John F. Klein, First ward; W. H. Moloney, Nineteenth ward; Joseph C. Wasson, Twentieth ward, and T. Ollie Atkinson, Twenty-fifth ward, all being members of the Common Council except Atkinson, who is a member of the Select Council.

So great a stir was caused by the arrests that the boards of directors of a number of banks were called into extra sessions last night to "cover up" the banks that are to be charged with having bribed the finance committee for the purpose of being selected as depositories.

The charges against the seven men, stripped of legal phraseology, are as follows:

"That they wickedly, corruptly and unlawfully give and offer money and other rewards and bribes in order to obtain and influence the vote of a number of members of the Select and Common Councils to secure passage by the Select and Common Councils of certain ordinances and resolutions pending before said bodies, commonly called ordinances and resolutions, designating the depositories for the funds of the city of Pittsburg, bridge ordinances, bond ordinances for freeing bridges, ordinances to filter beds, Herberton Street railway ordinance, resolution to pave Fourth avenue with wood blocks and other resolutions and ordinances pending before the Select and Common Councils."

The information goes to state that the charges referred to cover a period of two years. The amount of money the members of Council are said to have received is fabulous.

URGES MCKINLEY MONUMENT.

Darton, Dec. 22.—The chamber of commerce of this city has issued an appeal to the citizens to make good their pledge to build a suitable monument to William McKinley. The sum of $2500, largely contributed by school children was raised shortly after the president's death. The chamber of commerce wants $5000 additional.

FATHER

Of Hains Brothers Downcast Over the Testimony of Mrs. William Annis.

Flushing, Dec. 22.—General Hains, father of the Hains brothers, on trial for the murder of Wm. Annis, is downcast over the result of the testimony of Mrs. Annis yesterday. The testimony was the most damaging against the defense yet introduced. It tended to show that Thornton Hains was deeply implicated in the plot to kill Annis. Thornton is expected to testify tomorrow. The testimony today added little to the story told by preceding ones.

THE COMING "First Lady of the Land"

MRS. WILLIAM H. TAFT

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.
HEN Rutherford B. Hayes was president of the United States there visited him at the White House Miss Helen Herron, the young daughter of his Cincinnati law partner. To Miss Helen the president and Mrs. Hayes were "Uncle Rutherford" and "Aunt Lucy." Frankly the schoolgirl was fascinated with the White House and in the years that followed frequently referred to this initial visit as one of the great events of her life. Whatever others may think of the home of the presidents, in her eyes it was fairyland, the goal of all possible ambitions.

"Uncle Rutherford," she said one evening, "I am going to marry a man who will be president."

"I hope you may," was the smiling reply, "and be sure you marry an Ohio man."

She did both, for the Helen Herron of that day is now Mrs. William Howard Taft.

History records that one other woman said a similar thing and lived to husband. Her hair is brown and just touched with gray, a fact which she does not try to conceal. Her eyes are gray and clear. Her voice is contralto, musical and pleasing. She has much dignity and some reserve, not giving her affection until after long acquaintance. Her usual demeanor is serious, being free from the stereotyped smile yet her natural smile is engaging and her laugh joyous. She hates sham as much as does her husband and yet believes in a degree of form and order. She is intellectual, yet her first concern is Mr. Taft's career, with her children and home as close seconds. She believes that women should vote, but not hold office. She favors women's clubs and higher education so far, and only so far, as these do not interfere with home life. She is in the best sense a womanly woman, yet keeps abreast of the thought of the day. If Mr. Taft begins the study of any subject she takes it up also.

Music Her Passion.
In at least two lines she excels him—language and music. She speaks French see the prophecy come true. This was Miss Mary Todd, afterward Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, who, although treated somewhat slightly by the biographers, yet had much to do with placing the greatest of the presidents in the White House.

Mrs. Taft had an equal part in the advancement of her husband. It is an open secret that when he was offered a place on the supreme bench Taft was sorely tempted to accept, that having been his life ambition. It was Mrs. Taft who said no; that there was a greater office awaiting him. How much did the dream of the girl have to do with working out the fate of the woman?

Often at the White House.
Later when Benjamin Harrison was president and Mr. Taft solicitor general Mrs. Taft was again much in the White House, for the first Mrs. Harrison had been a blood relative, which the Hayeses were not, the "uncle" and "aunt" having been but friendship titles.

Again during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt the coming "first lady of the land" was often at the executive mansion as not only the wife of one of the chief cabinet ministers, but as the close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt. Thus the wife of the new president comes to the goal of her dreams not without training and not without familiarity with the honors and duties that await her.

What manner of woman is she? It is a question of keen interest to the better half of creation, and to the social set generally. The world knows Mr. Taft, so thinks it does, but what of his wife? The first thing that impresses one is that Mrs. Taft is that she is graceful, frank and cheerful, unaffected and not given to self. She is slightly above the median height and seems to have a steady, calm, and and Spanish easily and knows other languages. Music, however, is her passion. She is a graduate of a music school, was at one time a teacher and was for thirteen years president of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra association. The Ohio city has long been famous as one of the chief music centers of the country, the May festivals having been celebrated far and wide. The association of which Mrs. Taft was the head had much to do with giving Cincinnati her prominent place in the music world and with making the May festivals successes. The wife of the next president has two handsome souvenirs, one a present from the musicians, the other from the association itself. The last named gift is a centerpiece for her dining table, which has appeared in Manila, in Washington and will doubtless grace the table of the White House. On it are engraved the opening strains that were played at the beginning of all the Cincinnati Symphony concerts.

Feature of Her Ideals.
Right here should be mentioned a feature of Mrs. Taft's ideals and aspirations that may be productive of great good in the future of this country. She believes with many of the rest of us that one of the chief needs of America at this time is the development of the artistic and artistic taste of the people. Politically and industrially we are in the forefront of the world. We should hold the same station in poetry and painting, music and all the arts. Why not? We have laid the material foundation of our temple broad and deep. The superstructure should be in keeping. No people are wholly great until their appreciation of the beautiful and lofty of their art is equal to their attainments in commerce and in war. These are the ends to which war and commerce are but the means. If the highest side of life is the spiritual, then the arts and the love of beauty are the antechambers to the spiritual. They are the flower and fruit of civilization, while material progress and power are but its stock and root. It is fortunate that we are to have as first lady of the land one who sees these things. Mrs. Taft does not believe in government aid to music and the arts. She believes rather that the people should take these things up for themselves. Her value will be as an influence. Her mere advocacy of higher artistic standards will call public attention to our needs in this line. The genius and spirit of the American people may be counted on to do the rest.

Financier of Her Household.

The Tafts have always been poor. There has never been more than the salary to live on, and Uncle Sam does not pay his officials such magnificent wages that they become pampered sons of luxury. If they are honest, as some of them are, and refuse graft, as some of them do, they may possibly die with as much money as they started with, but not more. What with social duties and calls for charity, it makes the average official salary hump to keep up with the game. It has been so with the Tafts. Both of them are inclined to charity, especially the senior member of the firm, who gives to every body that asks as long as he has a cent in his pocket. It is probably for this reason that Mrs. Taft has been the financier of the household. She knows how to economize and yet to give to worthy purposes. She cannot afford a secretary, as do most of the Washington women, and frankly admits it. Yet so carefully has she financed her household that she has done her share of entertaining and has kept up her end of the social game, which is no simple or inexpensive thing at the capital of this land of the free and home of the trusts.

Perhaps the most winning side of Mrs. Taft's character, however, is that which she shows to her children. Of these there are three—Robert, eighteen, who is a sophomore at Yale; Helen, seventeen, a freshman at Bryn Mawr, and Charles P. Taft, Jr., who is very much at home. Charlie is the really celebrated one of the trio. He is a chum of Quentin Roosevelt, has the same steam engine activity as his father, which sometimes goes into surprising and perverse channels, and generally is a healthy, irrepressible American boy. Miss Helen, named for her mother, but resembling her father, will probably leave college at the end of the present year and become a White House debutante, as were Nellie Grant and the two daughters of President Roosevelt. It is not every girl that has a chance to have her coming out occur in the nation's executive mansion, and it is an opportunity not to be overlooked. As for the eldest son, Robert, he is an honor man in college, as were his father and grandfather before him, and like them, too, is going to study law. In the Taft home each of the children has his or her own room and keeps his or her own separate account. It is a family of wholesome enjoyment, laughter, good fellowship, common sense and individual freedom, typically American, as should be the family of him who is made temporarily the symbol of Americanism.

Comrade of Her Children.
With each of her children Mrs. Taft is not only the mother, but the comrade. This is especially true of her young son. She is never too busy to enter into his sports, listen to his plans and troubles, read to him or have him read to her and be his play-fellow, confidant and friend.

Mrs. Taft dresses richly and tastefully, but quietly. She is not much given to following every whim and novelty of fashion. While always appearing well groomed, she is of the type of woman whose clothes are not the first thing noticed about her. It is her face and carriage which attract attention. She would not be termed a beauty, but has a distinguished appearance, a graciousness and a distinctive individuality that win her a popularity with all that meet her, a popularity that grows with longer acquaintance.

Sweethearts of Early Days.

Mr. and Mrs. Taft were childhood sweethearts, their families living in close proximity on Walnut hills, Cincinnati. They were married as soon as Mr. Taft was out of Yale. That was over twenty years ago. Their path since that day has been one of steady advancement without reverses. There have been few over whom the skies of fortune have been so propitious. Both the children of judges, both receiving a college education, playmates from youth and always in accord both in tastes and ambitions, they have met no defeats and but few hardships.

Seemingly there is but one point of divergence between the two—that of religious belief. Mr. Taft is a Unitarian, while his wife is a devout Episcopalian. On this point they simply agree to disagree, each claiming and granting complete liberty of opinion.

In the Taft home are many gifts and priceless relics which have come from all about the earth. One is a present from the mikado, another from the Philippines, others from Cuba or Panama, Russia or their own native city of Cincinnati. They are suggestive of the globe trotting done by the man who will be the most traveled of our presidents.

In all this journeying to and fro over the earth the future first lady of the land has had her part. She has conversed with statesmen and rulers in all parts of the world, sometimes in their own tongue.

This has given her a cosmopolitan breadth of view, and yet she believes with Tennyson that—

He is the best cosmopolite
Who loves his native country best.

OBITUARY

MR. THOMAS HAINES.

Mr. Thomas Haines, a well known resident of Newark, died quite suddenly at the home of a Mr. Borling, near Amsterdam, where he had been visiting for the past week. On last Thursday morning he was taken ill with pneumonia and rapidly grew worse until 8:30 o'clock Monday morning, when he passed away at the age of 62 years. The deceased was a son of the late John N. Haines, and had lived in Newark the greater part of his life. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rachel Haines, who lives on Vine street. He is also survived by three brothers and one sister, Jacob and Albert of this city, and John of Columbus, and Mrs. Mary Nageley of this city.

The body was brought to Newark Saturday and taken to the undertaking rooms of Bowers & McCament. The funeral services will probably be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, and interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

DR. E. HARTMUM.

Dr. E. Hartmum, 78 years, died at his home, near Rocky Fork, at noon on Monday, after a brief illness, due to bladder trouble. Dr. Hartmum was one of the best known of Licking county's older residents. He served in the Civil war, enlisting in Co. I, 32 regiment, O. V. I. He was twice injured in battle at Harpers Ferry. During the war he acquired considerable efficiency as a nurse in the hospitals, and also obtained a good knowledge of medicine, especially of the curative qualities of roots and herbs. Upon his return home from the war his services as a doctor were in considerable demand, and he manufactured the "Hartmum Salve" which is still remembered by many of the older citizens. At the time of his death he had one of the largest ginseng gardens in Central Ohio, numbering over 5000 thrifty plants.

He leaves a wife and three children, one son Wesley in British Columbia, a daughter, Rilla Johnson, in Oklahoma, and Lola at home. In the death of Dr. Hartmum the family mourns the loss of a loving husband and father, and the community grieves over the departure of one of its most esteemed residents.

The funeral will be held at the Rocky Fork church Thursday at 10:30 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Maddox officiating. The interment will be at the Rocky Fork cemetery.

REMEMBER PUBLIC LIBRARY

To the People of Newark:
Although your public library has only been open for three or four months, it has certainly proved itself worthy of your confidence and support. Of 1,500 or more volumes which have been purchased or donated about 1200 at this writing are out; so you can easily see that we need more books to supply the increasing calls and demands that are made on us from day to day. We have a goodly number of periodicals on our table, but more would be heartily welcomed—particularly your subscriptions for the Scientific American, the World of Today, and the World's Work. Wherefore we hope that in making up your "Christmas Gifts" you will generously remember the wants of the library which has been established in your midst, and make it the object of your largest and most liberal generosity.

The One Laxative Better Than Calomel

Does its work, yet leaves none of Calomel's after effects. When constipated, try Olive Tablets. Let them put you in better spirits—let them tone up the liver

Nine out of every ten people need laxatives. For constipation and sluggish livers are the unsuspected causes of a hundred different ills.

When your head aches, don't take headache powders. Most of such powders are harmful.

They simply ease. You should get at the cause of the headache. Dr. Edwards developed Olive Tablets through fifteen years of practice.

All his professional knowledge is crystallized in these tablets.

Fifteen years he searched for something to give in place of calomel—something that would not like it, yet something perfectly safe. The result is Olive Tablets.

One advantage is in their healing effect—the result of the olive oil in them.

Everyone knows how beneficial olive oil is. Yet they don't know what value it has as a laxative.

That's why we want you to try Olive Tablets. Learn what a pleasant and prompt effect they have.

Let them relieve you when you feel blue, nervous or dull. They tone the liver and clear the skin.

Dr. Edwards' Pleasant Olive Tablets

They accomplish results where others fail.

You need but try them to know them.

Prove what they'll do for you.

One at bed time makes you feel fine in the morning.

They are pleasant to take—in the form of sugar-coated tablets. They have no bad taste—do not gripe or cause any pain.

They are harmless, no matter how many you take.

Did you notice any particular change yesterday? Well, there was a decided change, for Monday was the shortest day of the entire 366 comprising the year. Leaders in Groceries.

THE RUSH still continues at my store and since I have adopted the CASH or 30 DAY PLAN, ALL CUSTOMERS ARE TREATED JUST ALIKE. No one can sell goods at close prices on long time, so I have "cut that out," preferring to sell on CASH MARGINS and get my money in time to take the benefit of cash discounts. So everybody, regardless of politics, religions, color or whether YOU ARE WET OR DRY, may have the benefit of the LOW PRICES at my store.

I have SUGARED a great many people within the past ten days, but there are still a number of people who have not been able to get in. So I will CONTINUE to sell the best ARBUCKLES CANE SUGAR (not beet) at 5c. in 1 to 25 pound lots, and there are FULL 25 LBS IN EACH SACK, and ONLY COSTS YOU $1.25. Some of my competitors are telling you that my sacks are light weight, and that I am giving you beet instead of Cane Sugar. Now, every sane person knows that ARBUCKLES SUGAR IS MADE OF CANE, and that the lettering on the sacks is RED and that is just what I am selling. They must take you for a fool.

Prices on Sugar may change at any time and without notice, and the change will be for a higher price, so if you are interested come at once. Mr. James E. Brunner, one of my new clerks, will be able to talk to our German friends.

SHOULD CONGRESS
VINDICATE ITSELF
AGAINST ROOSEVELT

(New York World)

We cannot agree with Mr. Bryan that since the President has been less and with Mr. Taft more individualistic, the Congress should attack upon the President. Assuming the Congress of the United States is a wholly different matter from assailing individuals.

Congress is the lawmaking power of the American people. It is the embodiment of popular self-government.
For a President to attack its honesty to charge that it amended an appropriation bill because "the Congressmen themselves did not wish to be investigated by Secret Service men," is to charge that republican institutions have finally become so degraded that representative government is ended in scoundrelism.

If the President or Congress were to declare officially that a certain decision of the United States Supreme court was controlled by the fact that the Justices "did not themselves wish to be investigated by Secret Service men," would Mr. Bryan counsel the court to "ignore the insult"? Or if Congress adopted a resolution declaring that the President had vetoed a bill because he did not himself
"wish to be investigated by Secret Service men," would Mr. Bryan dismiss the charge on the ground that Congress is in the habit of employing "billingsgate"?

Yet how much more serious is it when the President in the official performance of one of his constitutional functions makes such a charge against the entire legislative department of the United States Government! No hostile foreign critic of American institutions has ever framed such an indictment against popular self-government.

Congress could not ignore the insult, and it cannot halt in the course it has taken until the charge has either been proved or disproved and every word of information relating to the issue made public.

Unless Congress is prepared to do this it might as well abdicate and confess that representative government is a failure. What prestige, what authority, what shred of public respect would be left to it should it shrink from the duty of vindicating its own integrity?

CENTURY OF PEACE.

The directors of the Newark Board of Trade have unanimously adopted resolutions commending the proposed celebration and centennial celebration in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Lake Erie and of peace, during a century, between Great Britain and the United States.

As a preliminary to the proposed celebration the state of Ohio has pledged the moral support of the state to the centennial which it is proposed to hold at Put-in-Bay Island during the year 1913, and which will undoubtedly become one of the most important historically commemorative events occurring on American soil.

Governor Harris has appointed five commissioners who will serve as centennial commissioners under an act of the general assembly passed at its late session. They are William H. Rinehart of Sandusky, George H. Worthington of Cleveland, Brand Whitlock of Toledo, S. M. Johannsen of Put-in-Bay and Webster P. Huntington of Columbus. These gentlemen have already started active work and their appointment by Governor Harris is bound to be fruitful of nothing but good results. They have appointed as director of publicity Hon. R. J. Diegle of Sandusky, an ex-newspaper man and a gentleman of thorough experience in different public enterprises.

The centennial project will awaken not only general interest all over the state but among all English speaking people of the world. If carried out along the lines proposed it will have a right not only to the co-operation and support of the states bordering on the great lakes and of the National Government, but the cordial good will and promotion of the British and Canadian governments and all others
owing allegiance to the British crown.
The people of Ohio should and will be gratified that this great exposition will be held on Ohio soil and the project will undoubtedly receive the commendation and hearty support of its nearly 5,000,000 inhabitants.

EXPERIENCE OF
NEWARK DEALER
WITH SLEUTHS

G. H. Long Has Exciting Time at Columbus, While Endeavoring to Dispose of Sparkler.

Thinking that Detectives Gordon and Rourke of the Columbus police department were hold-up men, and wanted to rob him of about $2,000 worth of diamonds, G. H. Long, the well known pawn broker of South Second street, had a peculiar experience when in Columbus, Monday afternoon.

Mr. Long went over to that city to dispose of some diamonds set in rings, pins and brooches, and went to several pawn brokers without making a deal. Finally he went to the "soak shop" of Schottenstein, at the corner of Long and Third street, and offered a particularly brilliant stone for sale.
The proprietor said that before buying he wanted to find out whether it was genuine or not, and sent his boy out to a friend, whom he said was a diamond expert. Instead of going to the expert, the boy called the police thinking Long was a confidence man.

The detectives, dressed in plain clothes, responded and telling Long that they wanted to talk with him, but without disclosing their identity, they asked him to step into a back room.
The Newark man thought of all the stories he had ever heard of robberies, and refused to go.

He put up a stiff battle against the two men, calling lustily for the police at the same time. During the melee one fighting trio crashed through a show case, scattering the goods in every direction. Long had a revolver and a razor in his pockets and these only confirmed the opinion of the sleuths that they had a desperate criminal to deal with.

When the patrol backed up to the door and the Newark man saw that every thing was "on the level," he stopped his resisting and was taken to the city prison. From there he telephoned the buyer for the Columbus Mercantile company a particular friend of his, and the matter was explained and the officers changed the charge against him to carrying concealed weapons.

He was released on bond and will have his hearing next Saturday morning.

"WONDERFUL!" is what everyone says upon hearing the new Edison Amberol Phonograph Records, just invented by Thomas A. Edison. These Records are no longer than regular Edison Records, but play over 4½ minutes — more than twice as long — because they contain over twice as many tiny sound grooves to the inch.

The tone is of exquisite musical quality, and as natural as life itself.
You can now get twice as much pleasure from an Edison Phonograph, for it will play many beautiful vocal and instrumental pieces heretofore impossible. And you can

CITY COUNCIL PASSES NUMBER OF ORDINANCES

Takes Final Action in Water Works Rental Matter—Ask That Economy be Used.

The law committee of the city council, to which was referred the demand of Mr. Verrill for hydrant rental from September 1, 1906, to January 28, 1908, alleged to be due the Newark Water company, rejected the demand at Monday night's meeting, refusing to pay the money. This is probably the final action in this connection on behalf of the city.

Considerable discussion was aroused when President Russell and Member Kuster asked that the health department be instructed to enforce the ordinance of the city of Newark providing for the screens to protect meats exhibited for sale on market. The ordinance in question deals with meat and slaughter houses in the city and in Section 5 provides in part that "all meat, poultry, game or fish shall be protected from flies, dust and dirt by a fine screen."

Dr. W. H. Knauss, chief of the health department, has the matter under consideration, but stated to an Advocate reporter that it would be a difficult matter to enforce the ordinance as exactly stated in the book. He said:

"If the ordinance is strictly enforced meats cannot be cut in the open. If they are kept under a screen the dealer can get to the goods to cut it. And constant removing of the screen would do about as much good as no screen at all. Again, a screen, no matter how fine, could not keep dust away from meat. However, we have the matter under advisement and will do the best we can to enforce the ordinance."

Mr. W. D. Fulton, the wit of the council, sprung one on his constituents Monday night by introducing a resolution providing for "the annexation of a cross-roads settlement situated just north of the north corporation line of the city of Newark and known as Mt. Vernon." The matter of annexing the aforesaid town of Mt. Vernon to Newark was referred to the committee on county relations.

A resolution was presented by Mr. Kuster, and adopted, instructing the heads of the various departments of the city to use extreme economy in the matter of expenditures in an effort toward relieving the financial shortage of the city which is to be felt with the withdrawal of the money derived from the Aiken tax.

Mr. Fulton's amended ordinance extending the time of the Newark, Martinsburg and Mt. Vernon Traction company's franchise to June, 1910, for completion of the line, was passed on recommendation of the finance committee.

The city has discovered that once again the railroads have handed us a lemon. The lemon is none other than the Webb street crossing, or rather, the lack of one. This question came up in the council a short time ago in the form of a petition from persons living across the railroad yards of the B. & O. and who have very inconvenient means of egress and access. Investigation has shown that there was no provision in the original ordinance granting the railroad the right to close Webb street, by which the city can again order it opened. If there was such a provision it cannot be found by the law committee, according to its report Monday night. There was neither a provision for the construction of a viaduct.

City Engineer Wells reported on the opening of DeCrow avenue from a point 50 feet north of Burt avenue to the north side of the right of way of the P. C. C. & St. L. and the B. & O. railroad companies.

The Board of Public Service reported the need of the transfer of certain funds amounting to $115.

Other ordinances and resolutions were as follows:

GOV. JOHN A. JOHNSON

Will Appear Here at a Later Date—Letter of Apology from the Lecture Bureau.

Prof. T. Otto Williams, principal of the High school, received an apologetic and partly explanatory letter from the entertainment bureau which has in charge the management of the tour of Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, who was to have lectured at the High school auditorium tonight as the third number of the school's entertainment course. In the letter the bureau apologized for the disappointment, and positively promises that Governor Johnson will be given a later date here, probably in connection with the Delaware appearance. It is explained that the governor's dates are very much confused for an unavoidable reason, and the bureau offers to bear any additional expense that may have been incurred by the cancellation of the date. Prof. Williams has announced that any who feel that they cannot wait for the later appearance of the speaker, may have their money refunded in case they wish it, but that Governor Johnson will positively appear here.

Home Made Remedy Which Cures Promptly the Kidneys and Bladder—Easily Prepared.

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple and can be made up by anyone at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is: Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce; compound syrup of sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is said to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, frequent urination, pain and scalding, weakness and backache, pain above the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles.

The extract dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver, and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleans and enriches the blood. There is nothing better than Kargon Compound for the kidneys.

This prescription is safe to use at any time.

COMMISSIONERS

HAVE NOT AS YET TAKEN ACTION REGARDING PROVISION OF BRAUN BILL.

Al Weathers Fined for Lifting Fish Nets—Divorce Case, Real Estate Transfers, Etc.

The county commissioners of Licking county, thus far, have taken no action regarding the provisions of the Braun bill, which provides for county hospitals for the care and treatment of inmates of county infirmaries and other residents of the county suffering with tuberculosis.

An Advocate reporter called on the county commissioners Tuesday and asked them what they intended to do regarding the matter. They said they had taken no action whatever. It is understood, however, that provision has been made, both in the Children's Home and at the County Infirmary, for persons suffering with contagious diseases, to have them cared for in an isolated part of the buildings, away from the other inmates. No greater crusade than that directed against the "white plague" has ever swept this country, nor been given such world wide support. It must be stopped for it threatens civilization, the number of deaths increasing with alarming rapidity.

Fined for Illegal Fishing.

Granville, Dec. 22.—The case of the State of Ohio against Al Weathers, living on the banks of the romantic and picturesque Buckeye Lake, who was charged with lifting a net contrary to the laws of Ohio, was heard before Squire A. T. Sayre and a large number of witnesses of Granville and Buckeye Lake citizens. The case was fought to a finish by the attorneys on both sides. The court, after carefully deliberating the matter for a few minutes announced that it had arrived at a conclusion and decided the case by finding the defendant guilty as charged and fining him $50 and costs. The matter will be carried to a higher court by the defendant.

Juvenile Court.

An affidavit was filed in the Probate court Monday by a young girl, aged 15 years, whose home is in Alexandria, charging that on December 16, a young man aged 18 years, who lives in this city, had had criminal intimacy with her, and she herself pleaded guilty to the crime and to other offenses. It was also said that there were two other young couples, the girls living in suburban towns, who were guilty of the same offense with two young men living in this city. The girl was sentenced to the Girls' Industrial Home at Delaware, and the young man sentenced to the county jail for three months. The Juvenile court is determined to break up immorality in the city and reform the offenders if it can possibly be done.

THEIR EVE OF NOEL

BY
Virginia Leilia Wentz

COPYRIGHT, 1908 BY HOMER SPRAGUE

"MERCI, monsieur!" cried the concierge as he cheerfully took the silver coin. "A happy Noel, monsieur!"

Lansing Drake entered the little impasse on the broad Avenue du Maine shaking his shoulders, for his back ached. He had been working at the Louvre for five steady hours—till the very last fraction of light held out. Why not? What part had he in the festivities of these happy French people? Was not he one of the homeless ones, separated by the width of an ocean from his family?

In his studio apartment he threw himself on a divan with a pipe and a Journal Amusant. But the Journal was full of allusions to the season, and somehow he sighed. The eve of Noel—Christmas eve! It had been the very best time of the year over there in his dear southern home. What were they doing now? Getting the things ready for the trees, and tying up the wreaths of holly with red ribbon, and hanging a branch of mistle—oh, pshaw, what right had he to think of such things tonight?

A clatter of sabots across the flagstone court—the small daughter of the concierge fetching water from the common tap; from the Boulevard Montparnasse the toot of a St. Philippe du Roule train and then silence.

IF HE ONLY DARED SPEAK TO HER!

lence. Drake was picking up his paper again when—

The snow lay on the ground;
The stars shone bright—

Ah, it was the quaint old English carol, with its liquid, sweet melody, which he'd learned at his mother's knee, and it was the American girl across the court who was singing it:

When Christ our Lord was born
On Christmas night.

No wonder the tears came to his eyes. That particular carol and that particular girl made up a combination to which he was a bit sensitive if the truth had been dragged from him. Just that very morning he had written home:

"There's a little American girl opposite. I don't even know her name, but the mere sight of her keeps me straight. She's all alone, and she's evidently studying music. As for her singing, she has the most beautiful voice the good God ever saved from a lost violin, a voice to make you pray, little mother, to turn your laughter to tears, to turn your tears to laughter."

From the day when he had first seen her, watering her geraniums on the sill, the window across the court yonder had become a sort of shrine. And at each new glimpse of her an unformed prayer of thanks surged up within him that a creature so lovely had been sent by heaven to keep the word "gentleman" stainless, to make it a thing to strive for and to take a cleanly comfort in.

She was a stranger too. It was a bond between them. Tonight perhaps she was suffering like him from homesickness and loneliness. How soon he could make her forget all that! They could have a revel of their own and a jolly little supper, laughing together in sheer happiness of a mutual understanding of the Christmas spirit abroad. Unchaperoned? What would they need of a chaperon, they two—two toilers for the sake of art, comrades in arms made equal in rank by the blessed chance of being both strangers in this wonderful old Paris?

There was a moving gleam of something behind the geraniums yonder. The cheesecloth curtains stirred, and then the window was lifted. She threw out some crumbs to some cold looking sparrows. The last rays of the winter sun touched the fine, white parting that separated the burnished waves of hair.

If he only dared speak to her! She might misjudge him before he had a chance to show his intentions. But he would do it. He would seize the moment while this fit of madness lasted and speak to her. In saner mood his courage might be unequal to it. He hurried out of the room and stood, hat in hand, in the court close to her window.

"I am your neighbor across the way, mademoiselle," he said. "It is a month since I first saw you, and I've been wanting to know you so much. So much. I have no means of obtaining an introduction, and at the risk of your displeasure and your scorn I have ventured to speak to you tonight, to tell you how the little Christmas carol you sang just now somehow flew straight to a fellow's heart and made him think of home and all the old familiar joys of the season."

He held out a card. His hand shook a trifle. But the girl did not notice. She was looking at him steadily, after the first start of surprise, the color coming and going in her cheeks. But in her eyes was no fear, no displeasure.

The snow lay on the ground;
The stars shone bright—

He bowed his head in his hands for the great gift that had come to him—

When Christ our Lord was born
On Christmas night.

I told you a little while ago it was your friendship I wanted. I was wrong."

She made no answer, but stretched out her little gloved hand to him, then drew it back quickly unnoticed, a singular smile on her lips.

"You've known me for a few hours only," he went on in a steady voice, "and I understand what you think of me for speaking like this. If I had known you for years and had waited and had the right to speak and keep your respect"—His steadiness did not carry him to the end of his sentence.

Then she laughed joyously, deliciously.

"You are mistaken," she said. "I have known you for years. I used to chum with your sister Gertrude at school, and you used to come down from your university, and we'd take walks. And we went up to all the meets to see you run, and you used to win. You called her your 'kid sister' and me 'the other kid,' and you kissed me once. You've forgotten the little girl who stood silent in corners and looked at you with wide eyes. But I couldn't forget. I used to have Gertrude write me all about you till she married that missionary and went to live in China. And then I had your photograph—the one in your trunk suit."

"And just to think for a whole month now you've been living opposite to me, across the court, and I never knew it! Ah, Lansing, I've felt for years you would come to me, and when I saw you tonight my first impulse was to stretch out both hands and be so glad, so glad. At once, though, I saw you'd forgotten, so I determined not to tell you who I was. I wanted you to recall. When I spoke of your having a sister just now I tried to make you recall, but I'm glad you didn't, because it's me, all me, as I am, that you love, and it's so good that way."

A little later through the frosty air the midnight bells of Noel rang out clear. Then at the last, very softly, from a darkened room across the court, Lansing Drake heard a verse of the old Christmas carol he had sung at his mother's knee:

The snow lay on the ground;
The stars shone bright—

He bowed his head in his hands for the great gift that had come to him—

When Christ our Lord was born
On Christmas night.

Mother's Coronation Day.

That first Christmas was the mother's coronation day. Each recurring Christmas perpetuates the memory of her great glory. In public and in private celebrations of it hers should be the central figure. Solemn gladness akin to the Creator's satisfaction in his "very good" work should fill her soul.

In Mr. Harrison S. Morgis' beautiful poem, "Incarnation," we read how a laborer, laden with "a tray of tools, a timbered frame," walked in the sunshine through a city street—

Nor knew that out of myriads one Beside him saw a shadow run
That clasped the centuries in its shade.

But, like a loving spirit, there,
In even footfall at his side,
A shadow walked the pavement wide
With bended head and humble pride
And angled cross aslant the air.

It was as if the dateless sun
Forgot the years, the far abode,
And, lo, upon the world rode
The cross worn Nazarene trode,
Holding the journey never done.

Every mother who holds her baby in her arms repeats, unconsciously or consciously, the story of the incarnation. The blended shadow "clasps the centuries," past, present and to come, and eternity itself "in its shade."—Marion Harland in Independent.

The Navy's Christmas.

Christmas in the regular navy is observed as one of the big holidays of the year. Starting off with a grand dinner in the middle of the day, discipline is from then on relaxed, and the fun is fast and furious till sundown, and often the evening is enlivened by amateur theatricals. The vessel is gayly decorated with bunting, and at each mast-head and at the bow and stern green trees are lashed if procurable.

Self Help.

Dashaway—Well, Uncle Jasper, how are you getting on with your Christmas dinner?

Uncle Jasper—Fast rate, sah. Colonel Winterblossom done giv me a present of a fine fat turkey, sah.

Dashaway—That's very strange. I just left the colonel, and he didn't say anything about it.

Uncle Jasper—No, sah. He's got to count dem turkeys fust.

When Mistletoe Was Banned.

Because of its association with pagan rites the mistletoe was for centuries forbidden a place in English church decorations at Christmastide and it was not even mentioned in old rhymes until the seventeenth century, in Herrick's time, although the holly and ivy had for two centuries previous been the subjects of various poetical effusions.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Crawford—I thought you were perfectly delighted with the Christmas present your wife gave you.

Crabshaw—At that time I didn't know she'd had it charged.

How It Was Done.

She—The idea! And we weren't even standing under the mistletoe!

He—No. I did that sub rosa!—Brooklyn Eagle.

In Christmas Land.

Mistletoe just overhead—
Touch one spray above!
Holly berries just as red
As the lips of Love.
Christmas skies of blue and gray,
Heaven in bright view,
And the sweetest gift today
Just the tips of you!

STOP BLINDNESS

CAUSES.

Most blindness is caused by inflammation of the eyes, or what is called "cold in the eyes." Most blindness is the result of neglect or delay on the part of mothers or nurses in not paying attention to these inflammations or "colds in the eyes." Most blindness may be avoided if mothers and nurses will do what is told below to do.

SYMPTOMS.

IN BABIES: Sometime during the first two weeks the eyes get red and a "Matter" discharge or tears with yellowish "Matter" comes from the lids which gums them together or dries on the lashes. The lids are apt to swell so they can not be opened. This condition is very DANGEROUS and means that your baby may be blind if you do not call medical help right away. One out of every ten blind people in the United States is made blind by this disease. They are blind because their mother or nurse neglected them and did not call help.

IN ADULTS AND CHILDREN: Inflammation of the lids or what is called "cold in the eyes" starts with the eyes getting red, the light hurts them, pus or matter, or "corruption" or "poison" runs from the eyes, making the lids stick together.

WHAT TO DO.

If any of these things happen to the eyes of your baby or family CALL A DOCTOR RIGHT AWAY. DON'T WAIT. DELAY MAY MEAN BLINDNESS FOR YOUR CHILD. Wash the eyes until the doctor comes, with pure water, slightly warmed, and a soft cloth. Use the cloth only once and burn it.

CAUTION.

Personal Discharges "poison" eyes. Burn all cotton and cloths soiled by them and always wash the hands before touching the eyes.

PROTECT THE FAMILY.

Any one can "catch" inflammation or "cold" in the eyes from the one who has the disease by getting the pus or "matter" or discharge from the sore eyes into his own. This may be done by way of fingers, towels, handkerchiefs, bed clothes, or anything that has been soiled by the discharge from the sore eyes. To keep the other members of the family from "catching" the disease USE ONLY CLEAN COTTON TO WIPE THE SORE EYES AND THEN BURN THE SOILED COTTON AS SOON AS IT HAS BEEN USED, or if you can not buy cotton use CLEAN linen rags AND BURN THEM BOIL FOR TEN MINUTES ALL TOWELS HANDKERCHIEFS AND BED LINEN THAT HAVE BEEN SOILED BY THE MATTER FROM THE EYES. ALWAYS SCRUB YOUR HANDS WITH SOAP AND HOT WATER AFTER TOUCHING THE SORE EYES OR THE DRESSING. If only one eye is sore do not let any matter from the sore eye get into the well one or it too will get sore.

SOMETHING IN THE EYE.

Cinders, dust, dirt, pieces of steel, etc., often cause inflammation of the eyes and ulcers that destroy sight. DON'T LET ANY ONE BUT A PHYSICIAN TAKE THINGS "OFF THE SIGHT OF THE EYE."

DON'T.

1. Don't say "it is only a cold and will get well all alone." Always take the child to the Doctor. The mischief may be done in three days' time or less.
2. Don't listen to those who tell you to wash the baby's eyes with breast milk, or put on tea leaves, or any other home remedy, because you do HARM AND LOSE TIME.
3. Don't let the children play with hat pins, sharp sticks, knives, toy pistols or anything with sharp points which they may stick in their eyes.
4. Don't let your children eat pickles, olives, drink beer or eat anything that upsets their health. Ill health weakens the eyes.
5. Don't put poultices on the eyes.
6. Don't let any one in the family who has sore eyes use the same towel that the rest of the family use.
7. Don't use "eye stones," flaxseed, horse hair, or anything else in getting things out of eyes.
8. DON'T DELAY. If your child has sore eyes, call medical help.

Above is a reproduction of a circular now being distributed throughout the state by the Ohio Commission for the Blind. This Commission was appointed by the Governor in accordance with a law passed last winter to improve the condition of the blind. The Commission thinks one of the best ways to help the blind is to decrease the number of the blind. More than one-third of the cases of blindness from disease could have been prevented if taken in time.

Cut out and preserve this article. Do what it advises.

WORKERS FOR THE BLIND.

[By the Ohio Commission for the Blind.]

Recently much interest has been aroused by an article in October Everybody's Magazine on the work of the New York Association for the Blind and others who are endeavoring to improve the condition of these handicapped citizens. Not only for the adult blind are opportunities being presented for bettering their condition but also some notable philanthropic work has been done in a quiet way.

"ORCHESTRA," BLIND BABIES' HOME, BROOKLYN.

In a pleasant new part of Brooklyn, by the efforts of Cynthia Westover Allen, founder and promoter of the Sunshine Society, a home for blind babies has been opened and kept in operation. Here a little company of sixteen or eighteen happy little ones are cared for and taught, a kindergarten being provided and in it a member of the city teaching force is employed. Nearly all of the children shown in the picture are blind from

SOME BLINDNESS

Can Be Stopped If Care Be Taken in Time.

In September 1905, out of ten children of the age of 3 admitted to the Ohio State School for the Blind at Columbus, three might have been saved from the great affliction if some one had known what to do. They had "baby's sore eyes," and this is a preventable disease. Any time may have the disease, which usually shows its presence within a few days after birth. The highest authorities say that care, cleanliness, and the use of a very simple remedy will prevent blindness from this disease. It must be taken in time. If the baby shows signs of a "cold in the eyes" don't let it go. Better early precaution than a blind boy or girl and for the boy or girl a life-time without the precious boon of sight.

SCHOOL BOARD

Holds Regular Session Monday Evening and Transacts Routine Business.

All the members were present Monday night at the regular meeting of the board of education, but while they were there with their sleeves rolled up, figuratively speaking, there wasn't much business to transact.

Several bills were allowed, but when the bill of the Wingate & Brooks company was presented, the board bucked. The bill was for the installing of telephones in the high school buildings, and amounted to $430. The board thought this was in excess of the contract. It was referred to the building committee for settlement. A bill of $76 from the Beal & Garrett company of Zanesville for the tile floors in the building was also referred to this committee.

Several counter claims filed by Hugh McDord, formerly the contractor on the high school building were also referred to building committee.

Treasurer Jones made an interesting report, showing that the children of the different buildings in the city had contributed liberally towards getting supplies for the poor. His report also showed that during the month of November there were 124 cases of absence reported, and 41 children played "hooky."

The matter of boiler insurance was then taken up. The board inquired for insurance on six boilers that are used in the schools, four of them are located in the high school, and one each in the North Fourth and the Woodside buildings. The policies submitted by the Hartford Boiler and Inspection Insurance company were accepted for three years, at a premium of $150 on a total of $20,000. There will be four inspections a year according to the policy.

Several minor matters were then taken up. Mr. Millers of the commercial department of the high school, requested that typewriter supplies be purchased. Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Simkins Miss Vera Jones was elected as a contingent teacher.

The board decided to change their meeting night from the first to third Mondays of the month to the first and third Tuesdays. This will go into effect the first of the year. The board also decided to pay the office rent of Mr. David M. Keller, the efficient clerk of the board.

What To Do For a Cough.

There are so many pet ways of treating coughs and colds, and so many friends ready with all kinds of advice, that when a cough is contracted, it often bothers a person to remember what they did for the last one.

The following home-made remedy, kept in the home ready for use, will overcome an obstinate cough quicker than an expensive medicine you could buy. Any woman can make it in a few moments—here is the recipe:
Granulated Sugar Syrup.....1 1/2 oz.
Pinex.....2 1/2 oz.
Put the Pinex in a clean pint bottle and fill up the bottle with the Syrup, made as follows: Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add 1/2 cup of water, stir and let boil just a moment. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours, as required. This recipe makes a full pint of the cough syrup, and if kept well corked, it will never spoil. Tastes so good that children will take it without kicking. This simple cough syrup usually stops a deep-seated cough in 24 hours. It is also excellent for colds, whooping cough, bronchial troubles, influenza, consumption, pains in the throat, etc.
Pinex, as you probably know, is the most potent form of Norway White Pine Compound. It is very rich in ginkgo and other elements which make the ozone of the pine forests such splendid medicine for throat and lung troubles. There are many fine oil preparations, but none of these compare with the real Pinex itself. If your druggist does not happen to have it, he will be glad to get it for you. The 2 1/2 ounces cost you fifty cents. The Syrup costs you about four cents. So you can make a whole pint of this effective Cough Syrup for about fifty-four cents.

INAUGURAL PARADE

In the grandeur of display and in the gorgeous character of its detail, the parade in connection with the inauguration of Governor Judson Harmon in Columbus, January 11, will be the most notable in the history of Ohio. Already it is apparent that the parade will be the largest in point of numbers that has ever been witnessed on a similar occasion in any state, while the committees in charge of the various features are proceeding along lines heretofore unattempted in parade displays.

W. G. Benham, chairman of the committee on parade features, has contracted for a large number of floats, emblematic of the glory and progress of the state. Three of these floats will be in castle form. From these will be set off, during the parade, a fine assortment of daylight fireworks.

Two floats will be representative of the incoming officials and of the outgoing officials. Some of these are Republicans, some Democrats, so the floats will be in keeping with the non-partisan character of the demonstration, which non-partisan character is dominant in all of the arrangements for all inaugural functions.

Colonel Byron L. Bargar is receiving requests daily for assignment of marching bodies in the parade, of which the float section, though elaborate in itself, will be but supplemental. For the inaugural parade in Columbus, Jan. 11, will be of such character and extent in all of its details as to rival if not excel a Mardi Gras festival parade.

BYRON L. BARGAR
Grand Marshal of Parade.

The first division of the parade will be made up of platoons of mounted police and a big band at its head. Then will come Governor Harmon in a carriage, Lieutenant Governor Treadway and other dignitaries. The governor's staff, gaily uniformed, their horses clothed with rich caparison, will attend the governor.

The second division will consist of troops from the United States army barracks in Columbus, followed by the national guard of the state, making the most notable military pageant ever witnessed in the state. The third division will consist of military organizations unattached. This will include about 1,200 uniformed cadets from Ohio State university, the Columbus Rifles, military organizations of secret societies and kindred bodies in uniform.

Political clubs, mostly in uniform, will constitute the fourth division. This will include all of the famous political organizations of the state, such as the Duckworth club of Cincinnati, the Thurman club of Dayton, the Buckeye club of Columbus, the Franklin County Democratic club of Columbus, the Blaine club of Cincinnati and like clubs, attractively uniformed. For the club feature is to be nonpartisan also. Republican clubs, as well as Democratic clubs turning out to honor the men who are to be inducted into office.

Civic bodies will make up the fifth division. Other divisions will be added as necessities appear, for this will be an immense parade. A large reviewing stand will be constructed along Broad street. From this point of vantage the parade can be viewed by thousands. All traffic over the line of parade will be suspended so the pageant can be viewed from any point along the line of march satisfactorily. A hundred thousand visitors will witness this parade, besides the thousands of Columbus people.

One hundred thousand citizens from all parts of Ohio will witness the gorgeous functions in connection with the inauguration of Judson Harmon as governor and Francis W. Treadway as lieutenant governor, Jan. 11. That is the mark set and the people of Columbus have joined in a non-partisan effort to make the day the greatest in the history of the state. On no former occasion has so elaborate preparations been made for the induction of a chief executive into office. Plans to make comfortable the vast number of people who will attend are already perfected. Governor Harmon, at the great public reception in the afternoon, will meet and greet personally more Ohio people than ever before attended an inauguration.

FUNERAL OF PROF. PATTENGILL

FORMER DENISON PROFESSOR BURIED AT ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN.

Kappa Phi Sorority Give Enjoyable Reception—News of Granville Village.

Granville, Dec. 22.—At Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 16, occurred the funeral of one who was described as the best loved man in Ann Arbor, and who was also associated with Granville years ago in the very beginning of his career. It was Professor Judson G. Pattengill, for nearly a generation principal of the famous Ann Arbor High school, where thousands of students have prepared for the University of Michigan. Professor Pattengill, however, began his teaching career at Denison University immediately after his graduation from the University of Michigan in 1873, as teacher of mathematics. The public funeral services at Ann Arbor were attended by a great concourse at the First Baptist church and conducted by the Rev. A. S. Curman of Granville, a former pastor of that church. Miss Edith Pattengill of Shepardsville college, is a relative of the deceased teacher.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was the reception given by the members of the Kappa Phi sorority for the new girls of at the beautiful new home sorority on Monday night, December 13. The new girls were all and all had a splendid time. The pretty little house was beautifully decorated in holly, red bells and Kappa Phi carnation. The decorations being a table bearing an abundant mass of cerise carnations, among which were interwoven the Kappa Phi colors, the cerise and blue. Each girl received as a favor a carnation. Delicious refreshments were served and splendid music was furnished by the Sargent orchestra.

Mr. Paul S. McKibben, a graduate of Denison, now holding a fellowship at the University of Chicago, while studying for his doctor's degree in biology under Prof. C. J. Herrick, formerly of Denison, is spending the holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. F. McKibben, at their home on West Elm street, Granville. The daughters, Misses Ruth and Mary, who are teaching in the high school at Joliet Ill., and Luma, O., are also to spend the holidays at home.

Miss Helen Williams, daughter of Professor and Mrs. C. L. Williams, is spending the holidays with her parents. She holds an important position as teacher of piano in a prominent woman's college in Tennessee.

Rev. W. M. Young of Keng Tung, Burma, where he has had one of the most wonderful ingatherings of modern missions, was in Granville last week looking for a home for his family. A few days before Dr. Jacob Hennrichs, president of the Baptist Theological seminary at Ramapatnam, India, was in Granville to arrange for placing a son and a daughter here next year. The reputation of Denison which has been widely extended of late, and the location of the Home for Missionaries Children at Granville, promise to make of the college town, with its beauty and many advantages, probably the leading place of residence of Baptist Missionaries during their stay in this country.

Mr. J. Ernest Hutchins, who was graduated from Denison in 1896, and who took his college education back to the farm with him in southeastern Ohio, where for twelve years he has been one of the leaders in an extensive rural community, has removed to a farm a little west of Granville for the educational advantages it will give to his children.

Misses Mary Neal, Dorothy Kibler, Helen Crane and Ann Davis of Newark, attended the Kappa Phi reception.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS

According to Custom, Will Toast Most Eminent Grand Master on Christmas Morning.

Aording to the annual custom the members of St. Luke's Commandery, Knight Templars, will assemble next Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the parlors, and raise their glasses in a toast to the Most Eminent Grand Master, Henry Warren Rugg, of Providence, R. I., at exactly the same moment a similar ceremony is taking place at the various lodges throughout the world.

This beautiful custom has been in usage for a number of years, and it is so arranged that the graceful tribute is paid essentially the same moment throughout the different parts of the country where different time schedules are in effect.

At Newark, and all cities using Central time, 11 o'clock will be the time for the toast. In Hawaii it will be proposed at 6 a. m. In Alaska the knights will raise the winecup at 8 a. m. California and the other states of the Pacific coast, observe the ceremony at 9 a. m. The inhabitants of the Rockies at 10 a. m. The states of the Eastern border at 12 noon. The knights of England at 5 p. m., while in the possessions of the United States in the Pacific, the Philippines, the rite will take place at 1 a. m. the day following Christmas, and at exactly the same time that the others are, the members of St. Luke's commandery will drink their toast.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Newark.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Mrs. Bruce Ferrel, residing on Railroad street, Dresden O., says: "While a young girl a heavy weight fell on me and left my kidneys in a very disordered condition. My back gave me a great deal of annoyance and I suffered from bearing down pains which seemed to be as severe during the night as during the day and greatly disturbed my rest. I arose feeling very tired in the morning and had very little energy or ambition during the day. Finally I procured Doan's Kidney Pills, began their use and they positively cured me. I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers of kidney complaint."

Plenty more proof like this from Newark people. Call at A. F. Crayton's drug store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Anty Drudge Gets a Proposal.

Mr. Millions—"I want you to marry me, Anty Drudge. I am wealthy and I can make you happy."

Anty Drudge—"Let's see, Mr. Millions. You are a manufacturer of washboards and washboilers and you are interested in the coal trust, aren't you? Yes! And you wouldn't want your wife to spoil your business by talking. On the whole, I think I can find more happiness in telling women how to save themselves drudgery, save fuel and keep their health by using Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water, without boiling, than I can by marrying you. Good Day."

Horace Greeley used to say that the man who worked with his head and his hands together could do twice as much work as the man who worked only with his hands.

You women who wash clothes, think that over.

Want to make your head save your hands?

Then study the question of soap. Try Fels-Naptha in lukewarm water.

Fels-Naptha actually does the work of cleansing; doesn't leave it for you to do with hard-rubbing.

Fels-Naptha takes the dirt out without boiling. Does it better, too.

Fels-Naptha makes your washing twice as easy and takes only half the time of the old way. Not only the white clothes but the woollens, flannels, colored things.

Don't take our sayso. Try it for yourself. But be sure to get the genuine Fels-Naptha, be sure to use only lukewarm water (never hot), and be sure to follow directions on the red and green wrapper.

You won't be using your head if you don't do these things.

AMUSEMENTS

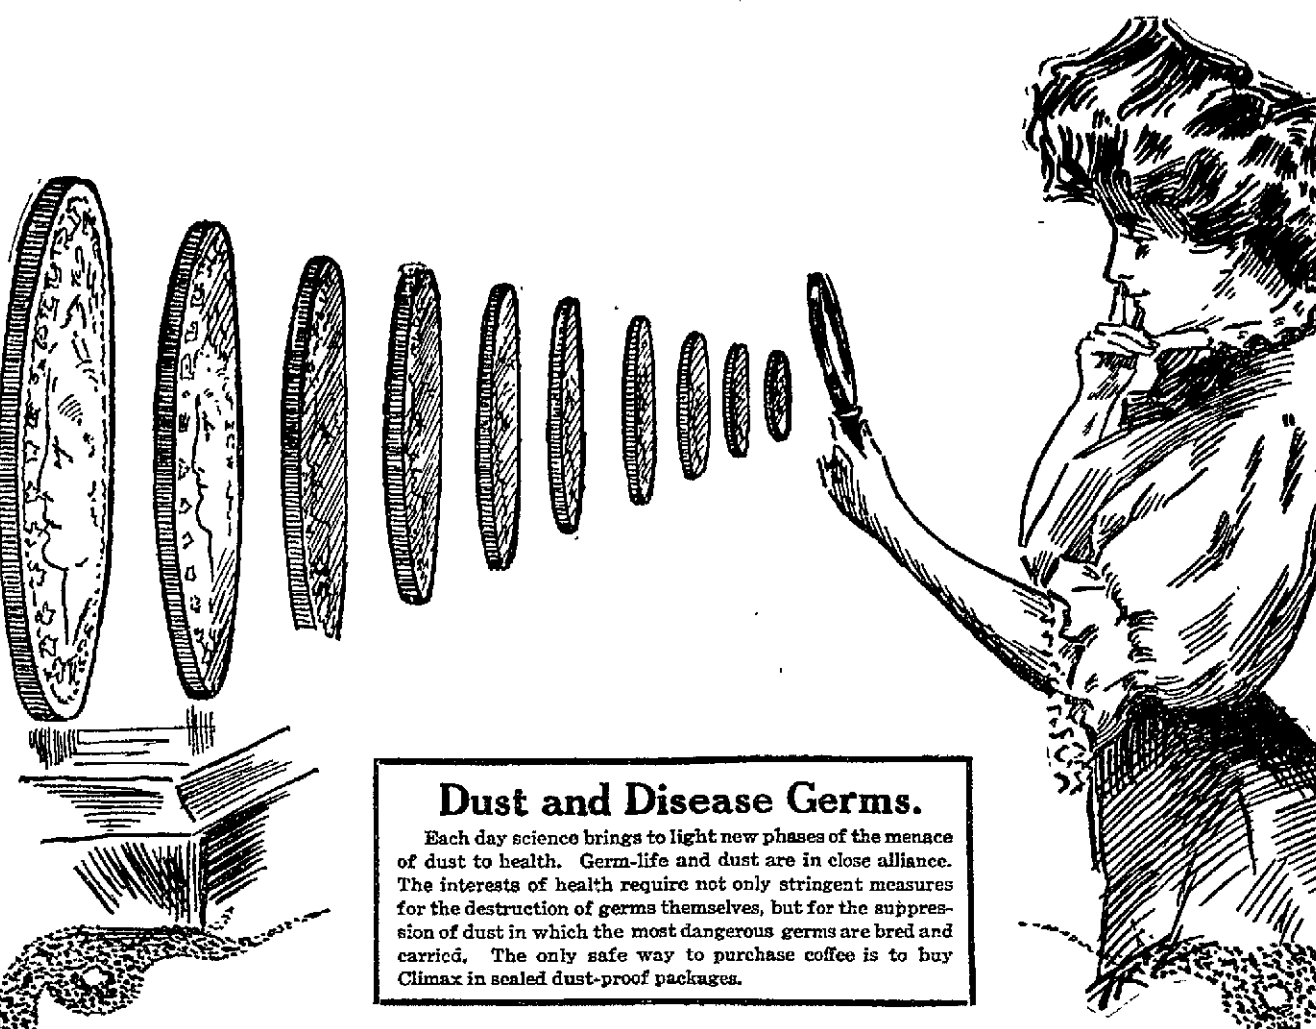

PHILLIPS AND BERGEN
Who have a very laughable comedy sketch, which they present in first class style, to the delight of the patrons of the Orpheum theater.

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS:
The bill for the first half of Christmas week is a happy choice. Especially is this true of the Aerial Budds in their exceptionally clever gymnastic act. Josephine Gassman and Pinks succeeded in raising a great laugh Monday and proved their ability as royal entertainers. Miss Anna Bingham's whistling act, and Phillips and Bergen in a comedy sketch, are both very pleasing. The song and motion pictures are delightful as usual. The Orpheum expects a patron this week that will break the records of the house, and Monday's start was pretty good toward that end.

Rudyard Kipling in "Captain Corcoran," pictures the captain of a fishing smack searching for codfish and says, that in order to guess their whereabouts, he was thinking, not like a man, but like a wise old cod. He put himself in the fish's place, and therefore could find cod when all other fishermen failed. Now this is what Al. G. Field the minstrel does. He takes pains to understand his patrons, and he thinks from their standpoint. That is one of the secrets of the success of the Al. G. Field minstrels. It is the result of years of experience in the realm of minstrelsy, the culmination of years of serious thought to the best that America's original and truly national entertainment, The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels will appear here at the Auditorium theater, Saturday, December 26, matinee and night.

"Jane Eyre," the new Rowland and Clifford play, is a strong dramatic comedy with a sweetly sentimental story told in a way that will appeal to everyone, without resorting to impossible situations and exaggerated

IS BURNED AND FROZEN.

Bucyrus, Dec. 22—An unknown man, well dressed, 50 years old, was burned and frozen and died from the effects, yesterday. He had been a Chatfield, this county, and bought meat and bread. Later he camped and made a fire near that town. Saturday he was found delirious. He had fallen into his own campfire and was fatally burned.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

Several important business changes are scheduled for the first of the year and a number of firms will remove from old familiar locations to new places. George T. Stream will remove his plumbing and bicycl store from the stand at Fifth and West Main streets, where he has been located for 11 years, and on January 1 will occupy the room in the Florentina, directly across the street from his present location. Kemper Scott's furniture store will make room for Mr. Stream's place by removing to the room on North Third street now occupied by the Newark Natural Gas and Fuel company, which concern will change its offices to the new Hamill-Bader structure on West Main, near Fourth. The Postal Printing company will also vacate its room in the Florentina to occupy one of the Hamill-Bader building rooms. It is not yet known what will occupy the room vacated by the Postal Printing company, nor that vacated by Mr.

Stream. The latter will, however, retain the rear portion of the old stand for bicycle repairing and storage in winter. He will add to his plumbing stock in the new location where there will be ample room for a good display of his supplies.
